

FROMENTAL

Phantasm

In collaboration with Amy Lau

What began as bespoke wallcovering for Amy's Manhattan home has evolved into something more significant: a design legacy, capturing her distinctive aesthetic and approach to beautiful living.

Phantasm reflects our shared passion for innovation in craftsmanship and materials, its painterly abstract design inspired by the iridescence of Loetz glass.

The lustrous silk ground reveals layered swirls and washes, building a contemporary, ethereal depth. Dimensional metallic markings trace across the surface, catching the light and accentuating the design's sculptural quality.

01 Brilliantopal

A painterly veil of turquoise and lavender on white silk, inscribed with gilded metal leaf markings that appear to flutter when light illuminates its surface.

02 Bronzegrun

The varying shades of celadon and blush pink in our Bronzegrun colourway blend softly together. The saturated silk ground is embellished with bronze markings, accentuating its metal-like look.

03 Kristall

Soft blush and rose tones wash across the silk ground, evoking the luminous quality of Loetz glass. Delicate white acrylic markings scatter over the surface, catching the light as the viewer moves.

“Designing with Amy was always a thrill: she brought light, laughter, and fierce elegance to everything she touched. Our final collaboration, created for her own home, holds all the vitality and vision that defined her and the aesthetic we shared: polished brutalism softened by luminous colour, the shimmer of the unexpected made timeless.”

“This piece is both a celebration and a remembrance: a tribute to Amy’s eternal eye, and the beauty she so effortlessly conjured.”
