

FROMENTAL x
HARRIS REED

Ambiguous Tiger
A Collaboration Collection

Fromental and Harris Reed share a belief that design should provoke, not simply decorate. Our connection was immediate — “an enchanting moment,” says Reed. “We completely bonded over our obsession with creating something otherworldly.”

The collaboration began when Reed renovated the London home he shares with his husband, for which we designed four bespoke wallcoverings. It was a meeting of kindred curiosities — the blending and breeding of techniques between fashion and interiors. Our process was instinctive and meticulous, the outcome unapologetically bold.

Ambiguous Tiger originates from full-scale hand-painted panels, where layers of wet and dry brushwork create a bold, fluid rhythm. Captured in expressive, gestural strokes and originally developed for the SS26 runway, the design embodies Harris Reed's signature theatricality and fearless individuality.

Printed onto hand-gilded paper and hand-glazed, the metallic ground heightens the depth of each layered mark, catching and reflecting light with subtle luminosity. Wild yet refined, Ambiguous Tiger makes the case for both atmosphere and artisanal precision.

Fromental wallcoverings are hand-made to order, tailored for each room. From supplied elevations and floor plan, we will place the design and panel seaming to ensure optimal installation.
